1. INTRODUCTION

The Extractive Industries Transparency Initiative (EITI) is a global standard for the good governance of oil, gas and mineral resources. The EITI Standard is implemented by 52 countries.

The EITI sign up process of the Republic of Tajikistan has been started in June 2011 after the EITI Global Conference. In August 2011, 21 civil society organizations signed the Memorandum of Understanding where they committed to join EITI, which resulted in establishment of a Coalition of civil society organizations of the Republic of Tajikistan "Transparency for development" (hereinafter - Coalition of SCOs). One of the main objectives of the SCOs coalition is to support implementation of the EITI standards on RT and active participation in realization of the Initiative.

The EITI Candidature Application of the Republic of Tajikistan was approved at the 22nd EITI Board Meeting on 26-27th of February 2013 in Oslo, the Kingdom of Norway.

The goal of the EITI for the country is to ensure transparency in the management of the country's natural resources and the disclosure of government revenues from the extractive sector.

The way the standard works is that mining companies publish information about payments, and the government publishes revenue amounts. The data is collated on an annual basis in the National EITI Report and is accompanied by international expert assessment. The process is controlled by the National Council.

During the implementation period of the EITI, Tajikistan has released four National EITI Reports that cover data from the extractive sector in the period from 2015 to 2021 and all of them are available on the website pbo.eiti.tj

To achieve the goals of the EITI in Tajikistan, the EITI Council was created, chaired by the Deputy Minister of Finance of Tajikistan, and a Multi-Stakeholder Group (MSG) was created, consisting of three parties: government representatives, civil society representatives and representatives of the extractive industry (extractive companies). Representatives of the MSG are members of the EITI Council in Tajikistan and take an active part in decision-making.

Three parties - Government, CSOs and companies - put efforts to make EITI information available to broader public, which is accessible on the following websites:

- The website of the Ministry of finance of RT: http://moliya.tj/

- The website of the EITI Council of RT: www.pbo.eiti.tj

- The website of SCOs Coalition of RT "Transparency for development": www.tfd.tj

- The page in Facebook: www.facebook.com/eiti.tajikistan

The EITI Council in Tajikistan develops and approves a work plan for the upcoming periods of project implementation. The work plan adopted by the EITI Council of Tajikistan for 2025-2026 covers the following issues:

1. Conducting a training seminar for stakeholders on the progress of EITI implementation at local and national levels (implementation period May-December 2025).
2. Training for financiers of mining companies on the reporting form for reconciliation for 2022-2023 (implementation period until November 2025).
3. Pre-validation analysis of the implementation of requirements, including corrective actions. Analytical note on the implementation of requirements (April-May 2025).
4. Assistance in promoting the draft Decree of the President of the Republic of Tajikistan on declassification of data and preparing a project on introducing amendments and additions to the Resolution of the Government of the Republic of Tajikistan on the EITI (April-May 2025).
5. Promotion of the draft Resolution of the Government of the Republic of Tajikistan on the EITI, as well as amendments and additions to the Law of the Republic of Tajikistan "On Subsoil" (April-May 2025).
6. Creation of an electronic system for collecting data from companies for the EITI Report, experience of Armenia. (May-December 2025).
7. Preliminary analysis and assessment of energy transition actions in the extractive sector (September 2025).
8. Conducting public regional hearings (debates) to discuss the National EITI Report for 2019-2021 (May-December 2025).
9. Development and approval of Terms of Reference for the Independent Administrator, including on contextual information for 2022-2023 (September 2025).
10. Conducting a national conference to present the report for 2022-2023 (June-July 2025).

More details about the work plan of the EITI Council for 2025 can be found in the Annex 1.

2. EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The 2025/2026 Communications Strategy is the cornerstone of EITI's work to implement EITI in Tajikistan's Extractive Sector - dissemination and stimulate public debate on Tajikistan's natural resources.

This strategy is based on lessons learnt from previous EITI in Tajikistan engagements. This has been assimilated into the 2016 EITI in Tajikistan Communications Strategy and this has been updated to consider the current environment.

This strategy outlines the communications activities to be undertaken during the period 2025/2026 and is based on evidence and experienced gathered between 2016 and 2023, to achieve (but is not limited to):

This strategy out the communication activities that will be implemented over the period 2025–2026band is based on evidence and experience collected.

- Build the capacity of both the Media and the Citizens of Tajikistan to engage in informed discussions and debates on issues within the Extractive Sectors.

- Ensure information on other vital parameters of sector governance is widely disseminated to the public" (as the data is beyond just production and revenues.)
- Build public confidence and trust in Government.
- Counter corruption and illegal mining in Tajikistan.

This strategy explains the reasons for choosing channels to disseminate information about the project to the public.

The media plan, as part of the implementation of the communication strategy, was developed considering upcoming events planned until the end of the project and will also cover topics regarding the activities of the project, taking into account the work plan of the EITI Council in Tajikistan and important topics in the extractive sector of Tajikistan (Annex 2).

The communication strategy and media plan will be submitted to the EITI Council in Tajikistan for approval.

3. PURPOSE OF THIS STRATEGY

• To ensure that the MSG CSOs have direct input into the activities of the EITI in Tajikistan in achieving the EITI requirements (2025-2026 EITI Tajikistan Work Plan).

• To provide the EITI National Secretariat with direction and targets which will determine specific communication activities such as workshops, training, social media, and various cannels of public messaging e.g, newspapers, news agencies (information sites), radio, television and social media.

• Provide the MSG, National Secretariat and Donors with a framework to monitor the effectiveness of communication activities and make changes where necessary, to support the National Secretariat with issues that may be encountered.

• Provides CSOs representatives with direction when working with EITI in Tajikistan on dialogue and information events.

• To provide a platform for the public and CSOs to provide feedback on the data disclosed and EITI activities in Tajikistan.

To achieve the expected results, it is necessary to consider the channels of information dissemination and use different types of them so that the public can more easily receive, perceive and assimilate information.

In Tajikistan, according to the latest research, which was carried out within the framework of one of the Internews projects in Central Asia, the most popular channels for obtaining information from the population is YouTube, followed by social networks and only then websites of news agencies. This is since the media in Tajikistan actively use social networks to disseminate information and therefore their websites do not have large coverage.

To achieve the goals of the communication strategy, it is necessary to work with the audience both directly and by disseminating information.

Targeted work includes seminars and trainings for journalists, representatives of public organizations, etc., press tours for representatives of the media and civil society, press conferences with the participation of representatives of the MSG and other events aimed at training and informing. Thanks to this work, it is possible to provide information to the target audience by providing understanding, but also allow the audience to react to this or that information, reflect, ask questions, ask for clarification, probe deeper, challenge the speaker (trainer, government representative or mining company) and much more.

Unidirectional dissemination of information is the dissemination of information through the media, social networks, brochures, newsletters and the EITI website in Tajikistan and the country's Ministry of Finance.

Possible options for disseminating information.

Unidirectional dissemination	Targeted work
Reports and publications Online portal or website Factsheets or fact videos Periodic newsletters (print or electronic) Print posters, brochures, and handouts. Infographics (electronic) Press releases. Press coverage (print or electronic) Talk shows and debates on TV or radio with experts. Social media with feedback option disabled Third-party websites Professional and specialized journals without commenting	Press conferences. Seminars and conferences Professional and specialized journals with feedback and reviews Public talks and debates Trainings and workshops (including new curriculum for professionals) Social media (Blogs or vlogs) Talk shows and debates on TV or radio with public input.

3.1 Expected Outcomes

The role of EITI is to bring transparency and accountability of Tajikistan’s natural resources and to inform and stimulate public awareness and create space for debate on the extractives sector.

• It must be noted that communicating public messaging is a long term and constant process which will take time for results to be fully realized. Hence, this strategy looks at a 3-4-year period, with annual updates to consider changing environments.

The main goal for 2025 is to continue covering topics related to the extractive sector, work closely with journalists and media, and raise public awareness of the EITI and issues of the extractive sector.

By implementing this communication strategy for the period 2025-2026, we plan to achieve the following results:

•To ensure that the representatives of the stakeholder groups become involved in lively exchanges and discussions with their interest groups.

• Increased outreach performances, dissemination of information on activities and enhanced media understanding of EITI aims and objectives;

• Provide a platform for representatives of the government, civil society, and mining companies to discuss issues and make decisions.

• Enhanced public understanding of EITI process, its accomplishments, milestone, progress and status among all actors;

• Increased public and community interest and participation in EITI monitoring and implementation processes;

• Reduce and manage any potential risks associated with EITI stakeholders or by association.

• Increased public awareness on extractive revenues;

• Strengthening of greater transparency and efficiency in the extractive sector of Tajikistan;

• Building trust among population and government;

• Building reliable investment opportunities for national and international companies in the extractive sector;

• Ensuring that the tax authority participates and mining companies in the required data delivery;

• To ensure that various target groups use the EITI National report;

• To help interested citizens understand more about how the extractive sector works and to give them access to information that was previously difficult to access or completely inaccessible for them;

3.2 Specific Outputs/Targets for 2025

As part of the EITI activities, a work plan for 2025/2026 has been developed in Tajikistan to solve problems and determine priorities for activities towards the development of the 5th National EITI Report.

The Communications element of the work plan lay out the specific outputs for EITI which will be implemented in accordance with this Strategy over the period 2025/2026.

The schedule of work plan activities will be implemented in close cooperation with the EITI Council in Tajikistan, the Ministry of Finance of the Republic of Tajikistan, the National EITI Secretariat, and the National EITI Coordinator in Tajikistan.

4. INTERNAL COMMUNICATION

Effective internal communication is essential for the success of the EITI process in Tajikistan. It refers to four types of communication:

1. Communication between the National EITI Secretariat and MSG members.

2. Communication between MSG members.

3. Communication between EITI Council members and other MSG members who are not on the EITI Council.

4. The readiness of the National EITI Secretariat, members of the MSG, the EITI Council and EITI project consultants to competently and responsibly discuss topics related to the EITI, find ways to solve problems, discuss successes and make decisions in a timely manner.

COMMUNICATION BETWEEN THE EITI NATIONAL SECRETARIAT AND MSG

General communication (invitation to meetings, sharing minutes of meetings, emailing documents to the MSG or its working groups, etc.) for the MSGs in Tajikistan is done or should be coordinated by the National Secretariat EITI and the person defined to carry it out.

COMMUNICATION AMONG MSG MEMBERS

The MSG should ensure that proper provisions are in place to create a platform for dialogues and discussions. The most obvious format for communication between MSG members is the regularly scheduled MSG meetings as regulated by the TOR for the EITI MSG (see section 6.1, above).

In addition, the EITI Council needs to meet at least once every two months, and if necessary, more often to discuss issues and make decisions. In general, at least 6 meetings of the EITI Council must be held in one year.

5. BRANDING AND LANGUAGES

5.1 BRANDING

To ensure EITI Tajikistan's visibility and recognition, consistency is essential. Branding and its package of materials offers the tools for this. Logos, consistent fonts, colors, letterheads and stationery, boilerplate texts, signage and banners, presentation templates, report templates, email signatures, etc. ensure consistent and recognizable communication that yields attention, trust, and engagement.
Logos are the most prominent element of branding.

EITI Tajikistan has already created a country logo:

For further implementation of the EITI in Tajikistan, there is a need to update the logo in different versions (vertical, horizontal, JPG, PNG, as well as in Tajik, Russian and English versions) and in good quality.

Boilerplate text

Boilerplate text in communications is text that does not change and is used in different documents. In the context of communications, this refers to standard text at the end of a news article, press release, etc. All press releases, media advisories, information packages, leaflets, etc., should include boiler-plate language on EITI Tajikistan as well as a link to the initiative's website. The following is a sample text for such boiler plate language:

TJ - Ташаббуси шаффофияти саноати истихроҷ (EITI) як стандарти ҷаҳонӣ (eiti.org) буда, идоракунии кушод ва ҳисоботдиҳии захираҳои табииро пешбарӣ мекунад. Ҳадафи асосии ташаббус дар мусоидати дастрасӣ ба иттилооти шафофф ва боэътимод нисбати сарватҳои табиӣ барои шаҳрвандон асос меёбад. ТШСИ дар ҳар як кишвар аз ҷониби гурӯҳи бисёрҷониба, ки аз намояндагони ҳукумат, ширкатҳои истихроҷ ва ҷомеаи шаҳрвандӣ иборат аст, идора карда мешавад. Тоҷикистон аз соли 2013 стандартҳои ТШСИ-ро татбиқ мекунад. Дар ин муддат кишвар чаҳор Ҳисоботи Миллии ТШСИ интишор кард, ки дар онҳо маълумот дар бораи соҳаи истихроҷи кишвар оварда шудааст. EN - "The Extractive Industries Transparency Initiative (EITI) is a global standard (eiti.org) that promotes open and accountable governance of natural resources based on the belief that this will help ensure that natural- resource wealth benefits citizens. EITI in each country is governed by a multi-stakeholder group comprising government, business, and civil society. Tajikistan has been a country implementing EITI standards since 2013. During this time, the country released four National EITI Reports, which provide data from the country's extractive industry. For more on EITI Tajikistan visit pbo.eiti.tj"

RU – "Инициатива прозрачности в добывающих отраслях (ИПДО) – это глобальный стандарт (eiti.org), который способствует открытому и подотчетному управлению природными ресурсами, основанному на убеждении, что это поможет гарантировать, что богатство природными ресурсами принесет пользу гражданам. ИПДО в каждой стране управляется многосторонней группой заинтересованных сторон, состоящей из правительства, бизнеса и гражданского общества. Таджикистан является страной, внедряющей стандарты ИПДО с 2013 года. За это время страна выпустила четыре Национальных отчета ИПДО, в которых представлены данные по добывающей промышленности страны. Для получения дополнительной информации об ИПДО в Таджикистане посетите сайт pbo.eiti.tj"

Digital Media Guidelines

Digital media should be utilized as a communication channel for information on EITI to all target groups.

According to the latest study of media consumption in Central Asia, which was conducted by Internews and European Neighborhood Council "Central Asian Media Consumption and Disinformation: a quantitative and qualitative assessment in the context of geo-politics" 64% of Tajik citizens surveyed primarily rely on Tajik TV channels as a source of domestic news. Among those respondents who use social networks and receive information from there, 40% use YouTube, 26% use Instagram and 22% use Facebook. TikTok is used by 12%, and Odnoklassniki by 9%.

EITI Tajikistan should make frequent updates on the website pbo.eiti.tj and Facebook.

Even though the most popular platform in Tajikistan is YouTube, due to its specific nature, the EITI project cannot be actively present on this platform because it is specific and requires the publication of only video content. There is no need within the project because most likely the main audience of the EITI uses Facebook to obtain the necessary information; if necessary, videos can be produced and posted on Facebook. It is necessary to continue publishing materials on the Facebook platform and regularly support the existing EITI Tajikistan.

Postings should be made at least three-four times each month. Facebook posts may be boosted (paid) to reach and gather the audience for the page. The content may include not only any public event or information from the mining sector, or an event related to the EITI, but also news from EITI countries, information from the EITI International Secretariat.

Proper administration of the EITI Tajikistan Facebook page should involve:
- Inviting fans to like the page.
- Creating Facebook events for seminars, workshops, and informational events.

- Creating informative advertisements or graphics.
- Utilizating hashtags to identify EITI Tajikistan e.g. #EITI_TJ, #EITITajikistan and special hashtags for specific events and activities (e.g. #EITI_TJ_Report, #EITI_PBO_TJ).

Press releases or media advisories on upcoming events, announcing new publications, and so on should be regularly used.

Recommendation for working with media

As part of the implementation of this strategy, it is recommended to work with one of the most developed media in Tajikistan with a wide audience and developed social networks. A large media audience with which to collaborate is important to ensure access to information about the EITI and its activities in Tajikistan.

Taking these features into account, it is worth recommending, as part of a communication strategy, to work with the largest independent news agency in Tajikistan, "Asia-Plus," which has a large audience on social networks and three publication languages. - Tajik, Russian and English.

Work with other media can be carried out by involving them in trainings, seminars, press tours and other events. Also, as part of these activities, it is possible to determine a fee fund for media representatives to intensify their work within the framework of the EITI, who could write and publish articles in their media immediately after the events.

To attract journalists from different editorial offices, including state media, it is necessary for the National EITI Secretariat in Tajikistan to apply in writing to these editorial offices to obtain permission for their journalists to participate in EITI events in Tajikistan.

A media kit with core information on EITI processes should be readily available for distribution to the media at various occasions (events, press conferences, roundtables, workshops, etc.).

This kit should contain relevant material on EITI Tajikistan's background, MSG members and their functions, activities, reports, and photos. The Media Kit should include:
- Agenda of the specific event,
- Speakers' biographies, (if this is possible)
- Notepad,
- Pen, and
- Possibly branded USB flash drive with EITI information.

5.3 LANGUAGES

Tajik is the official language of the Republic of Tajikistan, hence it is required to have all documents in this language. English is essential as most of the international community uses it for communication. If the project has the necessary funds, then it is necessary to consider hiring an English translator.

The Russian language is the language of interethnic communication in Tajikistan and there is a need for the mandatory use of the Russian language in texts and speeches of speakers on an equal basis with the Tajik language.

In this regard, the project needs to have in the brand book versions of the logo and text of the background of the EITI in Tajikistan in Tajik, Russian and English.

6. Response to criticism and misinformation

Response to criticism

Criticism in the media or social networks is possible during project implementation. It is worth noting that if criticism is objective and constructive, it should be responded to objectively. Dialogue should be conducted at the level of balanced facts and only after agreeing a response with the EITI National Secretariat and, if necessary, the EITI Board.

Responding to misinformation

During project implementation there is a possibility that misleading information about the project or EITI implementation in Tajikistan may be published in the media.

In this case, it is necessary to analyze such content and find out who, for what purpose or for what reason the misinformation was made. It is recommended to refute the misinformation with an official press release. The text of the press release is discussed by the project consultants together with the EITI National Secretariat in Tajikistan and, if necessary, the EITI Council or MSG members may be involved.

Negative comments in social media

As part of the project implementation there is a possibility of receiving negative comments under publications about the project in the media or on the EITI Tajikistan Facebook page. In this case it is necessary to respond to such comments if they contain misinformation or fake information about the project and EITI activities in Tajikistan. Comments on media pages where information about EITI activities in Tajikistan has been published should be responded to only in case of emergency.

7. EITI media plan in Tajikistan for 2025

The media plan as part of the implementation of the communication strategy should be carried out considering the approved work plan of the EITI Council in Tajikistan for the period 2025-2026.

A media plan must be drawn up annually. An important part of the media plan is working with media representatives - journalists and bloggers.

The 2025 Media Plan includes activities in the form of trainings and seminars, as well as press conferences and press tours to mining companies.

Experience in implementing press tours has shown good results and citations in the media space. Journalists were able to gain first-hand insight into the country's mining sector, thereby enhancing their skills and knowledge of the mining sector.

The Media Plan for 2025 includes events such as press tours, press conferences and trainings to increase the potential of media representatives. It is recommended to invite representatives of several media outlets during the EITI Council, this will provide an opportunity for journalists to broaden their horizons regarding the issue of decision-making by the MSG under the EITI.

More details about the work plan of the EITI Media Plan for 2025 can be found in the Annex 2.

9. GLOBAL CIVIL SOCIETY ORGANIZATIONS WITH RELEVANT FOCUS

Civil society organizations in Tajikistan that are actively working in the field of EITI development in the country have extensive experience in cooperation with large international organizations, NGOs and networks and regularly undergo trainings and seminars both offline and online.
As this experience has shown, interaction with these international organizations and networks strengthens the capacity of civil society in Tajikistan and allows the dissemination of information about the EITI in Tajikistan at the international level. Below are some of these organizations or networks with which CSO representatives in Tajikistan already have cooperation.

The Natural Resource Governance Institute (NRGI) -- https://resourcegovernance.org/ is an independent nonprofit organization dedicated to improving countries' governance over their natural resources (in particular oil, gas and minerals) to promote sustainable and inclusive development.

Publish What You Pay (PWYP) -- http://www.publishwhatyoupay.org/ ("a global membership-based coalition of civil society organizations (CSOs) in over forty countries united in their call for an open and accountable extractive sector, so that oil, gas and mining revenues improve the lives of women, men and youth in resource-rich countries and that extraction is carried out in a responsible manner that benefits countries and their citizens.")

IndustriALL Global Union -- http://www.industriall-union.org/sectors-list?sectors=Base+metals ("IndustriALL Global Union represents 50 million workers in 140 countries in the mining, energy and manufacturing sectors and is a force in global solidarity taking up the fight for better working conditions and trade union rights around the world")

Natural Resource Governance Institute (NRGI) -- https://resourcegovernance.org/ (NRGI is an independent, non-profit organization that provides policy advice and advocacy. They share their knowledge and experience freely with policy-makers, accountability actors, and the global campaign for improved international norms. Transparency International (TI) -- https://www.transparency.org/ (An official supporter of EITI globally.)

Open Society Institute (OSI) -- https://www.opensocietyfoundations.org/ (An official supporter of EITI globally.)

Global Witness -- https://www.globalwitness.org/en/ (An official supporter of EITI globally. "Many of the world's worst environmental and human rights abuses are driven by the exploitation of natural resources and corruption in the global political and economic system. Global Witness is campaigning to end this. We carry out hard-hitting investigations, expose these abuses, and campaign for change. We are independent, not-for-profit, and work with partners around the world in our fight for justice.")

Adam Smith Institute -- https://www.adamsmith.org/ (The Adam Smith Institute is one of the world's leading think tanks, ranked 2nd in the world among Domestic Policy Economic Think Tanks and 2nd in the world among Independent Think Tanks by the University of Pennsylvania. Independent, non-profit and non-partisan, it works to promote free market, neoliberal ideas through research, publishing, media outreach, and education.)

Agency for Technical Cooperation and Development (ACTED) -- https://www.acted.org/en/ is an international NGO committed to immediate humanitarian relief to support those in urgent need and promote inclusive and sustainable growth.

Oxfam -- https://www.oxfam.org/ (An official supporter of EITI globally.)

Caritas -- https://www.secours-catholique.org/ (An official supporter of EITI globally.)

10. EITI NATIONAL SECRETARIATS IN DIFFERENT COUNTRIES

For effective work, it is worth considering the option of cooperation, exchange of information and experience between the national secretariats of countries in the same region or those countries where the EITI is being implemented most successfully. Below are contacts in some countries for further possible cooperation.
